Webinar Series 2023-2024

Creating a Learning Organization

Friday, December 15, 2023 | 11:00am to 12:00pm PST

The ability to learn and quickly apply new practices and concepts, and to adapt to an ever-changing professional landscape, is becoming increasingly important in today's quickly-evolving professional setting. In light of our rapidly-changing world, research has identified Learning Agility as pivotal to the success of today's leaders. This course will introduce you to the habits of mind you need to increase Learning Agility in yourself, the people you manage, or the people you train. You will learn to develop a mindset that invites and then contextualizes new learning, and to consistently view issues and ideas from multiple perspectives, ultimately leading you to be a more effective learner who is ready to apply new concepts in varied situations and scenarios.
